Today marks the beginning of your two-wheeled adventure! After picking up your motorbikes, we'll head toward the stunning Lake Iseo, where the serene waters create a striking contrast with the rugged mountain backdrop. As we continue, the first glimpses of the Alps appear, and the ride becomes a thrilling introduction to the winding roads and natural beauty of northern Italy. By evening, we'll arrive in Ponte di Legno, a charming alpine village at the summit of the Camonica Valley, where the crisp mountain air and scenic surroundings set the tone for the days ahead.

Day 3: From Ponte di Legno to Senales - 270 km / 168 miles (Hotel included)

We start the day early to conquer our first alpine challenge: the Gavia Pass. Famous for its role in the Giro d'Italia, this narrow and exhilarating road offers breathtaking views and a sense of accomplishment as we reach the summit. The journey continues to the iconic Stelvio Pass, dubbed the "King of Alpine Passes," with its 88 hairpin bends and an altitude of nearly 2,800 meters (9,186 ft). After celebrating our achievement with a hearty sausage panino, we descend into the tranquil Senales Valley, known for its sprawling apple orchards and serene landscapes. Tonight, we'll rest in a cozy hotel surrounded by nature's tranquility.

Prepare for a day filled with awe as we journey into the heart of the Dolomites, a UNESCO World Heritage site. The jagged peaks and vibrant colors of the Fedaiia Pass, ranging from deep orange to soft pink, create a surreal backdrop as we navigate its winding roads. Along the way, we'll pass Lake Fedaiia and the Marmolada Glacier, the highest peak in the Dolomites, before arriving in Cortina d'Ampezzo. Known as the "Pearl of the Dolomites," this enchanting town is the perfect base to explore the surrounding peaks and enjoy a restful evening.

Leaving behind the dramatic alpine landscapes, we descend into the rolling hills of northern Italy. The scenery softens as we approach Venice, a city renowned for its unique charm. We'll spend the night in this extraordinary city, surrounded by the timeless beauty of its canals and architecture.
